National demo, Birmingham

8 April 2017 - Media announcement

The English Defence League will be demonstrating in Birmingham on 8 April as our response to the 22 March Westminster jihad attack.

On Thursday 23 March hundreds of police were investigating the attack and they searched addresses in Birmingham, Wales, Brighton and London. There have been arrests in Birmingham, the city frequented by Khalid Masood, the Islamic killer.

In the week before the attack, Birmingham's Muslim ghettos were identified by a think tank as disproportionately likely to be hotbeds of violent jihadism. This is a national issue and we are responding with a national demo.

Until 22 March we had been planning a demonstration in Derby, but that has been cancelled to enable us to react to this new development. For these reasons, we have chosen Birmingham rather than Derby for the national demo; but at short notice a London regional demo will be held on 1st April.

We will be focusing on the jihadi threat in the UK, home-grown terrorism, returning jihadists, Muslim ghettos, no-go areas and 'Trojan Horse' schools. But we will not - ever - forget or ignore the rape jihad of Muslim men against English girls.

NOTE: The English Defence League is holding a series of national demonstrations throughout 2017 in England's hot-spots of Islamification and in Muslim-controlled "no-go areas" to give heart to English people who, until the Brexit referendum, felt ignored and who have been intimidated into not expressing their heartfelt fears for this nation's future and the society in which their children will grow up. Our first national demonstration for 2017 was in Rotherham on 25 February. See: <http://tinyurl.com/hpv574u>
